†2057. SHRI PYARELALKHANDELWAL: Will the Minister of MICRO, SMALLAND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES be pleased to state:

(a) the purpose behind having a separate Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises by Government;

(b) whether it is a fact that the said Ministry has failed in providing self employment to unemployed persons; and

(c) if not, the details of the different schemes introduced by his Ministry and the achievements made thereof, State-wise?

THE MINISTER OF MICRO, SMALLAND MEDIUM ENTERPRISES (SHRI MAHAVIR PRASAD): (a) To implement the new Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development Act that was enacted in 2006 to focus on the promotion and development of and for enhancing the competitiveness of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises, the erstwhile Ministry of Small Scale Industries and the Ministry of Agro & Rural Industries were amalgamated into the Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises. Simultaneously, the Government amended the Government of India (Allocation of Business) Rules, 1961 with regard to this Ministry.

(b) No, Sir. The employment generated by manufacturing MSMEs, including khadi and village industries and the coir sector was about 408 lakh persons by the end of Tenth Plan. As against a target of creation of 44 lakh employment opportunities by small-scale industries (now known as micro and small enterprises), approximately 60.23 lakh employment opportunities were created by the end of Tenth Plan.

(c) The Central Government supplements the efforts of the States by providing supportive measures to enhance competitiveness of MSMEs through technological upgradation, accessing markets, improved infrastructure, better availability of credit, facilities for training and capacity building of entrepreneurs. These schemes, interalia, include Entrepreneurship and Management Development Programmes (EDPs & MDPs), Market Development.

Assistance Scheme for SSI exporters (SSI-MDA) to provide international exposure MSEs, etc., to enhance managerial capabilities of MSEs. With the view to further enhancing their competitive edge, the Government has also announced (i) the Package for Promotion of Micro and Small Enterprises, (ii) the implementation of National Manufacturing Competitiveness Programme which , inter alia, include operationalising the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Development (MSMED) Act, 2006, from 2nd October 2006. These initiatives including schemes like Prime Minister's Rozgar Yojana (PMRY), Scheme of Fund
